and the quality of the decisions. The seminar aims to address the use of artificial intelligence in judicial decision-making to enable a debate on the limits and opportunities of predictive justice in civil and criminal law. Many questions arise in this field. In particular, by focusing on current and planned future developments European and national level, will be examined some crucial aspects of jurisdiction and the rule of law. Among the issues we can mention: - AI as an instrument for assessing how judge's do justice. -Algorithms as instruments and initiatives - eventually already implemented - of automatization for assisting standard proceedings. ΑI instruments for fastening and helping judges. Constitutional issues. - The uses of AI in the judicial system for purposes other than predictive justice, supporting judge's the activity, organising the judge's activity, producing the judicial decision as example.

Participanții sunt rugați să folosească numele lor real și o adresă de email validă atât la înregistrarea în platforma OSP, cât și atunci când se conectează la webinar, astfel încât, ulterior completării chestionarului de evaluare să primească și un certificat de participare.
